The novel opens with Aunt Polly scolding the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom about his afternoon and what happened. Tom's collar is still wet from the jam, but he lies, saying that he had, Tom's half brother, Huckleberry Finn, who had told himself to discipline him.

Tom goes out of the house to play with his friends, and is seen walking the streets of St. Petersburg. Tom and the new arrival, Huckleberry Finn, who has just moved to town, choose the adventures all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and decides to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom goes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white ally," a kind of marble. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.
