The novel opens with Aunt Polly arriving the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom runs out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom about his afternoon and what happened. Tom's collar is still wet from the jam, but he says, "I'm a half brother, Aunt Polly, and I don't want to be a full brother." Aunt Polly is satisfied, but Tom has sworn the devil himself to discipline him.

Tom goes out of the house to play. He is wandering the streets of St. Petersburg. He meets a new arrival, a boy named Sid, who is a new arrival and is a new arrival. Tom and the new arrival are playing a game of hide-and-seek. Tom and the new arrival are playing a game of hide-and-seek. Tom and the new arrival are playing a game of hide-and-seek.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom goes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white ally," a kind of marble. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.
